

Stop Trump's Global Gag Rule – An Attack on Women

Use PAI's social media toolkit to get engaged, take a stand, and make your voice heard. What we do now matters more than ever.

Our Challenge

On January 23, 2017 the Trump-Pence administration wasted no time in imposing the Global Gag Rule (GGR). The GGR is a harmful U.S. foreign policy that forces providers to choose between receiving U.S. family planning funds and providing comprehensive sexual and reproductive health care—at the risk of women's health and lives. Providers must agree to not provide legal abortion services, information, or even referrals for abortion services with their own money.

But Trump's Global Gag Rule dramatically expands the scope of the policy to all "global health assistance furnished by all departments or agencies" —not just family planning assistance. This step builds on an already harmful policy and undermines the autonomy, health, and lives of women everywhere. Tell President Trump that you stand with millions of women and their families globally and oppose this attack on health services and reproductive rights.
